

Hi everyone!

IN OUR TIME GROUP

Our group has now been meeting for several months and is proving to be very interesting and enjoyable. Each month we look at a particular year and talk about the outstanding events of that year - for instance 1953 was memorable because it was the Coronation year. We could all remember the celebrations, the street parties and people buying their first television set in order to watch the event live on a very small screen.

It has been a joy to listen to our members - to hear their memories, what they were doing in whichever year is that month's focus. Most of the memories we have shared have been exciting, happy or funny - just occasionally sad.

We would like to share one of those memories with you all.

The year is 1966 and you all immediately think 'World Cup'. So did we - until Maggie told us about her year. Maggie was working in Sally's, a florist's shop in Whetstone, Middlesex. She had started there as a Saturday girl, aged 14 and still at school. She worked hard and trained. When she married she continued to go there to help out with wedding orders - right up to a few days before her first baby arrived unexpectedly early! 1965-66 saw Interflora hold their very first 'Designer of the Year' competition and guess who won - Maggie. She was presented with the fabulous silver cup that you can see her holding in the photograph. If you are sharp eyed you will see the photograph is on the cover of the 1968 magazine - because she won it again that year. Well done Maggie.

Who knew we had such talent in our midst. What else are our u3a members keeping under wraps!!

Calling all new members to a New Members' Meeting

The committee invites all new members for coffee and cake on Wednesday, 15th July at 10.30 (for about an hour) at the Park Street Baptist Church Hall, Penn Road, St Albans, AL2 2QF. It will be a very casual affair and is an opportunity for all of us to put faces to names and ask/answer questions.

Please feel free to join us.

NEEDLES & PINS GROUP

At our March Needles & Pins meeting, we had a group session on "how to make a simple tote bag". Almost everyone took up the challenge to make at least one bag. The photograph shows several of the finished bags, including a number made by Sandra (who has so far completed ten!!!).

WOULD YOU KNOW WHAT TO DO?

How many of us have witnessed someone having a cardiac arrest? Did you know what action to take?

Be ready for that day. Learn about "Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) and what to do" with this 15 minute online tutorial, RevivR. This is a fast, free and easy-to-use online tool from the British Heart Foundation. Go to www.bhf.org.uk or the CGu3a web site under "Links" then "Other Useful Resources".

GARDEN VISITS GROUP

No matter how often you see a carpet of bluebells spread throughout a forest, it is a breathtaking experience. So a repeat visit by the Garden Visits group to Heartwood Forest at Sandridge did not disappoint. After an uphill walk from the car park as soon as you enter the forest there is a sea of blue. Bluebells are now protected so lines of rope discourage people from walking over them. Some took the opportunity to walk further into another wood, but we all met up again for a short drive to the John Bunyan pub for some lunch. We had booked beforehand; the landlord made us very welcome and complemented us on being a very friendly group. Another very enjoyable trip by the group.

.... AND NOW FOR SOMETHING DIFFERENT

This May is the centenary of the General Strike in United Kingdom. The cause of the strike was in part due to a dispute between coal miners and mine owners. In the early 1920s coal was "king". However by the mid 1920s, due to the growing economic depression, the sales of coal declined. Added to this was the revaluation of the pound, and later, the availability of cheaper coal from abroad. To offset the lack of sales (profit?) of UK coal, the mine owners proposed that miners worked longer hours for less pay. Naturally, the miners said NO.

The miners were in a triple alliance with National Union of Railwaymen and National Transport Workers Federation; thereby an attack on one was an attack on all. In 1925 despite making concessions to the miners, there was still a threat of a General Strike. The Government was involved in negotiations between the miners and the mine owners. A Royal Commission (chaired by Sir Herbert Samuel) reported in March 1926 which suggested a major reorganisation of the coal industry with a significant reduction of miners' wages. With nothing further from the Government, the Trades Union Congress (TUC) convened a meeting of executives of the affiliated unions that agreed support for a General Strike.

The General Strike was 4th to 12th May 1926, and had consequences throughout the UK. Approximately 2.5 million people went out on strike out of a total trade union membership of an estimated six million. At that time the national population was estimated at 45.2 million. Workers from other industries such as printing, building, gas and electricity supported the strike, however workers from essential food supplies and other services were not called out.

Are you aware how the General Strike affected your grandparents and their siblings? Were any of your ancestors directly involved with the General Strike?
